

ALL SAINTS LUTHERAN CHURCH & PRESCHOOL

NOVEMBER NEWSLETTER 2022

All Saints has a new Treasurer! We welcome Dan Mazan!

At the September council meeting, the Congregation Council appointed Dan Mazan as our new Treasurer. Dan has been a part of the All Saints family since arriving here in February 2021 with his wife, Elizabeth. Dan comes to us from his hometown of Chicago, Illinois, where he spent 40 years honing his skills as an accountant. He is a retired Certified Public Accountant, Certified Internal Auditor, and Certified Fraud Examiner.

He has served in various capacities for both for-profit and not-for-profit enterprises. His last position before retiring was running the financial reporting arm of a multi-million dollar not-for-profit corporation. He is well-versed in the “nuts and bolts” of financial transactions and is looking forward to helping our church in his new capacity.

Dan lives in Albuquerque with his wife, and they enjoy spending time with their daughter and her family in Socorro. Through the years, they’ve traveled abroad and look forward to future opportunities as COVID restrictions are lifted. Also, as a former lifelong Chicagoan, Dan expects to be visiting Cubs’ spring training activities in Mesa, Arizona.

Dan joins us in a busy season, as we are in the midst of our pledge campaign and preparing the 2023 budget. Please welcome Dan and thank him for stepping into this vital role.

And we thank our retiring Treasurer!

Diana Lewis has been the Treasurer at All Saints since 2014, with a break for a year in 2019. We are so grateful for her service to our congregation. She provided financial support and leadership during the church renovation in 2017 and through the challenges of the pandemic. Diana and her husband Andy have been members of All Saints since 1996 and have provided service in many areas, including property maintenance and working with the preschool. Diana also has been active in the Outreach, Advocacy, and Rapid Response team.

Please thank Diana for her years of service as Church Treasurer.

Reformation Sunday

We had a great Reformation Sunday celebration on October 30, with music by all our ensembles and a guest trumpet. The message was about how God is with us and helps us "sit with not knowing." The organ postlude was exceptional. You can watch the service - and all our Sunday services - on our YouTube page - All Saints Lutheran Church, Albuquerque.

It was fun to gather for a potluck after worship to enjoy good food and good company. Mark your calendar to join us for the special fellowship and bake sale hosted by the youth group on November 27.

A Word from the Mad Hatters

By Virginia Antonetty

Back in February we launched a new project and asked all who were crafty in knitting, crocheting and/or looming to come and join the Mad Hatters group. And for all who were willing to learn, one of our members, Virginia Antonetty, was willing to teach the group how to loom a hat. Praise God many members have now learned the skill of looming and have created many beautiful hats.

I am sincerely grateful for all the help and participation you all have extended in the task of providing the homeless, battered women and many others in need, the opportunity to have a hat to keep warm during what has been predicted to be a harsh winter.

We the members of the Mad Hatters group would like to thank all who in one way or another have contributed to this organization by giving of their time, donations of yarn and monetary gifts to this beautiful ministry.

We are happy to announce that we have created 365 hats that will be distributed to the men, women and children in need through the following shelters and organizations that are there to serve others.

1. Joy Junction South Valley
2. Restoration Ministries Church
3. Veterans Integration Center
4. Family Promise
5. Good Shepherd Center
6. The Shelter Church
7. Steel Bridge
8. S.A.F.E House – mother and children
9. New Mexico Police Dept. members
10. Lutheran Family Services
11. Haven House West
12. Store House West

Advocacy Spotlight

God's Work, Our Voices

Judy Messal, Lutheran Advocacy Ministry, NM

“Just as we take care of the houses where we live, making sure they are well maintained to prevent future problems, we advocate in society to take care of problems that otherwise result in hunger, homelessness, and other forms of poverty and injustice,”

Kurt Rager.

Kurt Rager, Director of Lutheran Advocacy Ministry-NM, grew up as a member of All Saints Lutheran Church—and as an advocate. Learning to do advocacy entailed knowing how our political and governmental systems work. Kurt's mentor was his father, a person who had immersed himself in those systems in New Mexico. He introduced Kurt to civic engagement at a young age.

Each year, father and son would take time to go from Corrales to Santa Fe to watch the State Legislature in session. Mr. Rager would ask Kurt to peruse the list of bills that had been introduced and find some that would be good for young people. Kurt would choose his legislation and then write for copies of those bills. After studying them, he and his dad would return to Santa Fe to see how a particular bill fared in a committee hearing or how it was voted on in the House or Senate. Kurt, as a young teen, was able to offer public testimony in a committee hearing on a bill he found important. As he remembers it, the legislation concerned bicycles and bike paths.

Kurt's upbringing determined his major at the University of New Mexico: Religious Studies and Political Science. As a young member of All Saints in the early 1980s, Kurt worked with Lavonne Abruzzi to organize an advocacy effort for the congregation. They designed bulletin board posts to update people on important public issues and to suggest how they could get involved. He and Lavonne also organized a candidate forum near election time, ensuring that candidates of all parties were invited. Faith-based advocacy done with integrity is strictly nonpartisan.

Around this time in Kurt's life, the extraordinary Nima Ward was working at the synod level to set up the Lutheran Office of Governmental Ministry (LOGM) in New Mexico. Kurt was ready to work hand in hand with Nima. By then, he had taken on the position of Director of Education and Youth Ministry at St. Paul Lutheran Church. There, he helped organize a Youth Volunteer Corps to do service projects. The youth learned not only direct service but also how to advocate. Each year, Kurt would take from fifteen to twenty-five teens to Santa Fe. There, they would shadow Nima Ward at the Roundhouse as she testified on bills before legislative committees or chatted with representatives and senators in the corridors, urging them to vote for bills that LOGM supported.

LOGM became known as Lutheran Advocacy Ministry-NM (LAM-NM) in the 1990s, and the well-known advocate Ruth Hoffman followed Nima Ward as director. It is almost like coming full circle now that All Saints' Kurt Rager has become LAM-NM's third highly respected director. He leads a Lutheran ministry that has advocated just policies for over thirty-five years in our state. “As congregations, we are called by God to do direct service,” Kurt says, “to serve the hungry and the homeless face to face, but we also are called to work upstream, to take care of those systemic problems which can lead to poverty.”

Join us Saturday, November 19th, from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at All Saints Lutheran Church in Albuquerque. (4800 All Saints Road, NW, 87120) Registration and refreshments will begin at 8:30 a.m.

This year’s conference will feature special guests Lilly Irvin-Vitela (President, Community Connects Consulting, LLC), Sherry Hooper (executive director of the Food Depot in Santa Fe), Denali Wilson (staff attorney with the ACLU), as well as others, along with opening devotions led by Lynne Hinton (executive director, NM Conference of Churches). Our theme this year: Working for Justice- How Faith Can Inform Cross-partisan Issue-based Advocacy.

In this interactive event led by Lilly Irvin-Vitella, participants will explore the call to action to engage in public policy that affirms our shared commitments to justice. As individuals and communities of faith, we will share, discuss, and deliberate about effective and principled tools to advance public policy that upholds the values we’re called to uphold in the Gospels. We’ll also discuss strategies to move beyond partisanship and move into faith-driven approaches that seek common ground and common purpose.

Integrated into the event will be presentations by Sherry Hooper and Denali Wilson centered on two of LAM-NM’s priority legislative advocacy efforts for the 2023 NM Legislative Session.

Though we highly recommend in-person attendance for the most impactful experience, an online Zoom option will also be available. Tickets this year are $18 in-person and $12 online participation.

Lunch and morning refreshments will be provided for in-person participants. Materials to take back to congregations will be provided to all participants.

Register for the conference at <https://www.eventbrite.com/e/2023-fall-advocacy-conference-tickets-449641418587> or call Lutheran Advocacy Ministry – New Mexico at 505-242-2493.

Community News

The solar panels have been installed. The next step in the process is to connect the panels to the church's electrical "system."

Once the connection is made, PNM must inspect and approve the installation before the system can be turned on.

The Church Council has decided not to take the next steps described above until after the first of the year (2023). The reason for delaying the final steps is to position the church to possibly receive a special "credit" from the federal government, of as much as 30% of the project cost, under the provisions of the "Inflation Reduction Act" signed into law in August. All the requirements and conditions for receiving the special "credit" have yet to be published.

If you have any questions, please let me know.

Music Ministry Notes

Do you ever wonder about the meaning of different words? Today I am contemplating the season, both in nature and the church year, and how everything is about to change, or turn, if you will. So, I jumped on my computer and googled the definition of “to turn”. There is quite a variety of meanings to the word, turn: 1. move in a circular direction wholly or partly around an axis or point; 2. change or cause to change direction; 3. change in nature, state, form, or color; become; 4. give a graceful or elegant form to; 5. make (a profit). And those are just the verb form!

In the middle of my contemplation, a song began to play in my heart:

*My soul cries out with a joyful shout
That the God of my heart is great
And my spirit sings of the Wondrous things
That you bring to the ones who wait
You fixed your sight on your servant's plight
And my weakness you did not spurn
So from east to west shall my name be blest
Could the world be about to turn?*

As we watch the trees let go of their leaves, relish the cool change in temperature, and look forward to the season ahead, don't forget to be thankful for what we have experienced and what we leave behind. We are again newly reformed and re-filled with the grace and love of God, who is with us in all of our adventures, the good and the not-so-good.

*My heart shall sing of the day you bring
Let the fires of your justice burn
Wipe away all tears
For the dawn draws near
And the world is about to turn!*

By the time you receive this Newsletter, Commitment Sunday (10-30-22) for our "Grace in Action" pledge campaign will have most likely passed, and we will have dedicated our pledges. If you haven't made your commitment for 2023, you are encouraged to do so by returning your pledge to the church office or leaving it in the offering plate. You can also use our google form in the Friday email to complete your financial pledge and "Get Involved at ASLC" card. As reported last month, as a part of the campaign, we held "Gatherings" after two church services to have a conversation with the congregation about ministries, programs, and finances of the church. Thank you to those that participated, your input is necessary and is very helpful in the development of the ministries and programs of the church.

To help keep you apprised of ASLC financial position, the following table provides summary financial information as of the end of September '22.

While the information in the above table is positive, on a YTD basis, during the month of September our revenue exceeded our expenses by $1,319. On a year-to-date basis, expenses show a decrease of 6.03% (after adjusting for temporarily restricted expenses). At the same time, YTD General Giving is up 9.77% ($15,908). For the year the preschool is operating at a loss of $6,181. Thank you for your support, not only financial, but in all of the other ways you support the work of the church.
